

Oxford Chinese Students and Scholars Christian Fellowship Privacy Notice

Your personal data – What is it?

“Personal data” is any information about a living individual which allows them to be identified from that data (for example a name, photographs, videos, email address, or address). Identification can be by the information alone or in conjunction with any other information. The processing of personal data is governed by the General Data Protection Regulation (the “GDPR”).

Who are we?

The Board of Directors of the Oxford Chinese Students and Scholars Christian Fellowship (OCSSCF) is the data controller for your personal data. A description of what data is processed and for what purpose is set out in this Privacy Notice. In the rest of this Privacy Notice, we use the word “we” to refer to the Board of Directors of OCSSCF.

What data do we process?

We will collect and process some or all of the following where necessary:

- Names, titles, and aliases, photographs;
- Contact details, e.g. telephone numbers (include mobile phones), addresses and email addresses;
- Where they are relevant to our mission, or where you provide them to us, we may process demographic information such as gender, age, date of birth, marital status, nationality, education/ work histories, academic/professional qualifications, hobbies, family members and dependants;
- Where you make donations financial identifiers such as bank account numbers, payment card numbers, payment/transaction identifiers etc;
- The data we process is likely to constitute sensitive personal data because, as a Christian fellowship, the fact that we process your data at all may be suggestive of your religious beliefs. Where you provide this information, we may also process other categories of sensitive personal data: racial or ethnic origin, mental and physical health, details of injuries, medication/treatment received, genetic data, biometric data, data concerning criminal records, fines and other similar judicial records.

How do we process your personal data?

OCSSCF will comply with its legal obligations to keep personal data up to date; to store and destroy it securely; to not collect or retain excessive amounts of data; to keep personal data secure, and to protect personal data from loss, misuse, unauthorised access and disclosure and to ensure that appropriate technical measures are in place to protect personal data.

We use your personal data for some or all of the following purposes:

- To enable us to meet all legal and statutory obligations (which include maintaining our membership list according to the OCSSCF Articles of Association);
- To carry out comprehensive safeguarding procedures (including due diligence and complaints handling) in accordance with best safeguarding practice from time to time with the aim of ensuring that all children and adults-at-risk are provided with safe environments;

Privacy Notice

- To minister to you and provide you with pastoral and spiritual care (such as visiting you when you are unwell or bereaved) and to organise and perform church services for you, such as baptisms, baby dedications and funerals;
- To deliver OCSSCF's mission to our community, and to carry out any other voluntary or charitable activities for the benefit of the public as provided for in our Articles of Association;
- To fundraise and promote the interests of OCSSCF;
- To maintain accounts and records for OCSSCF;
- To process a donation that you have made (including Gift Aid information);
- To seek your views or comments;
- To notify you of changes to our services, events, Board members and group leaders;
- To send you communications which you have requested and that may be of interest to you. These may include information about campaigns, appeals, other fundraising activities;
- To process a grant or application for a role; and
- To enable us to provide a voluntary service for the benefit of the public in the local geographical area as specified in our Articles of Association.

What is the legal basis for processing your personal data?

Most of our data is processed because it is necessary for our legitimate interests, or the legitimate interests of a third party such as other organisations where we have a partnership or agreement. An example of this would be our safeguarding work to protect children and adults-at-risk. We will always take into account your interests, rights and freedoms.

Some of our processing is necessary for compliance with a legal obligation. For example, to fulfil our duties under OCSSCF's Articles of Association, we are required to maintain the membership list.

Religious organisations are also permitted to process information about your religious beliefs to administer membership or contact details.

Where your information is used in other way apart from these legal reasons, we will first obtain your consent to that use.

Sharing your personal data

Your personal data will be treated as strictly confidential. It will only be shared with third parties where it is necessary for the performance of our tasks or where you first give us your prior consent. It is likely that we will need to share your data with some or all of the following (but only where necessary):

- Other persons or organisations operating with OCSSCF.
- On occasion, other churches with which we are carrying out joint events or activities.

How long do we keep your personal data?

We will keep some records permanently if we are legally required to do so. We may keep some other records for an extended period of time. For example, it is current best practice to keep financial records for a minimum period of 6 years to support HMRC audits. In general, we will endeavour to keep data only for as long as we need it. This means that we may delete it when it is no longer needed.

Your rights and your personal data

You have the following rights with respect to your personal data:

When exercising any of the rights listed below, in order to process your request, we may need to verify your identity for your security. In such cases we will need you to respond with proof of your identity before you can exercise these rights.

1. The right to access information we hold on you
 - At any point you can contact us to request the information we hold on you as well as why we have that information, who has access to the information and where we obtained the information. Once we have received your request we will respond within one month.
 - There are no fees or charges for the first request but additional requests for the same data may be subject to an administrative fee.
2. The right to correct and update the information we hold on you
 - If the data we hold on you is out of date, incomplete or incorrect, you can inform us and your data will be updated.
3. The right to have your information erased
 - If you feel that we should no longer be using your data or that we are illegally using your data, you can request that we erase the data we hold.
 - When we receive your request we will confirm whether the data has been deleted or the reason why it cannot be deleted (for example because we need it for our legitimate interests, meeting OCSSCF Articles of Association stipulations or regulatory purpose(s)).
4. The right to object to processing of your data
 - You have the right to request that we stop processing your data. Upon receiving the request we will contact you and let you know if we are able to comply or if we have legitimate grounds to continue to process your data. Even after you exercise your right to object, we may continue to hold your data to comply with your other rights or to bring or defend legal claims.
5. The right to data portability
 - You have the right to request that we transfer some of your data to another controller, if applicable. We will comply with your request, where it is feasible to do so, within one month of receiving your request.
6. The right to withdraw your consent to the processing at any time for any processing of data to which consent was sought
 - You can withdraw your consent easily by telephone, email, or post (see Contact Details below).
7. The right to object to the processing of personal data where applicable.
8. The right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioners Office.

Transfer of Data Abroad

Any electronic personal data transferred to countries or territories outside the EU will only be placed on systems complying with measures giving equivalent protection of personal rights either through international agreements or contracts approved by the European Union. Our website is also accessible from overseas so on occasion some personal data (for example in a newsletter) may be accessed from overseas.
